

Suffolk Open Studios

Every year all across Suffolk over 100 Artists open their studios during weekends in June. You are invited to see how and where they work and get the opportunity to enjoy paintings, drawings, prints, ceramics and other works of art outside a gallery setting.

For information on the full range of open studio events please see www.suffolkopenstudios.org or pick up a printed brochure from participating studios, local libraries and visitor information points.

Easterly Studio Trail Weekend

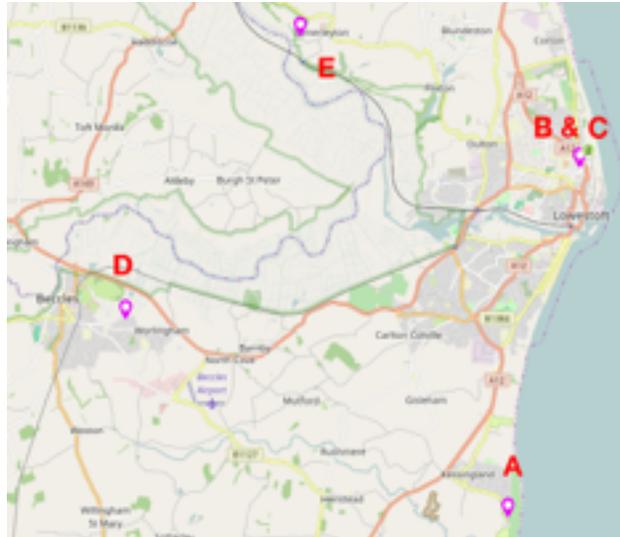

For one weekend only the Easterly Artists Trail is a collaboration between five artists in the Lowestoft and Waveney area who are coordinating their Suffolk Open Studio days on the weekend of Saturday 16th and Sunday 17th June to provide visitors with the opportunity to visit every studio on the same day.

This leaflet includes details of the participating artists, an Indicative location map of the studios, telephone numbers, full addresses and postcodes.

If you can't make it on the weekend of the 16th and 17th of June please refer to the details inside this leaflet on the individual artists for information on other weekends in June when their studios will be open.

A - Hilary Barry

Oil Painting

I left the Welsh mountains at 17 to go to art school, but the landscape and its history continue to influence my painting. My work is often a combination of the real, the remembered and the imagined: I aim to evoke the memory of landscape and experience.

Prints

I am interested in drawing and mark making on paper as a means of exploring imagination, form and space. I use a range of printmaking techniques including linocut drypoint and cyanotype as a means of moving beyond recording and observation into abstraction.

Print

Working with linocut printing gives me the ability to retain a spontaneity and immediacy to the images I create. My inspiration comes from the domestic and the everyday, both observed directly from life and from the imagined details of the short stories that I write.

D - Nina Roffey

Artmaker.

I have been working on found wood for several years making sculptural assemblages. I also use found or discarded, items and place in boxes as well as paintings and collages. I often write small books to go with some larger works which are included in the sale price. Found objects are my weakness!

Sculptural Ceramics

Brutalist architecture influences my ceramic designs. I create sculptural forms with under-glaze transfer prints: both are inspired by images of buildings such as The Barbican or Park Hill in Sheffield, or the iconic buildings on the Southbank.
